THE NEW, HDMI ADAPTER RING CONFIGURATOR

Is designed to be embedded in any Liberty AV dealer's site by including a code snippet from Liberty AV Solutions in the page code. The API Key in the snippet identifies the dealer and determines if the site is allowed embedding. Available to qualified Liberty dealers at Libav.com.

Simply put, wired connections are still relevant. Here's why:

- No fuss and no waiting... instantly connect and share
- Perfect for government and security sectors where downloading apps and software is heavily restricted
- Presenters can instantly share without needing to access Wi-Fi or 3rd party downloads, great for guests.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do you gain access? For instructions on set up, assigning admin rights, and video tutorials, visit the configurator landing page: <http://libav.com/make-our-configurator-your-own.php>.

How will updates work? New adapters, new images, etc. Any new updates / additions that Liberty makes will show up in the new configurator. Price list and image archives are downloadable through the configurator admin console (<http://libav.com/configurator-administration.php>). Access to the admin console requires admin rights. To set up admin rights, visit the configurator landing page: <http://libav.com/make-our-configurator-your-own.php>.

What if a customer has a pre-configured item number from a previous order or one not set up currently? The item number can be plugged into the configurator search field and will provide all components that ring is comprised of.

What if a customer creates a configuration that has never been sold and it's not in our system? Our configurator will create a new part number if a new configuration is created. New part numbers will represent the item numbers for all components that are included, to simplify the ordering process.
